Who we are

NextCounsel, the first ingenious practice management software tailored for the African legal industry, is widely accepted & used amongst leading law firms within Nigeria and some parts of Africa.

With the constant reviews from our Clients both in Nigeria and the generous backing from a leading VC Company, the need to improve and expand on our service offering became imminent. Thus, we came to the unique understanding that the challenges faced by in-house legal teams in Nigeria are somewhat similar; staying organised, inculcating the spirit of collaboration, managing external solicitors from anywhere at any time while improving on the quality of their service offering.

This brought the need for NextCounsel Limited to take the initiative to automate all case creation, agreement management processes as well as create an external Solicitors' platform to reduce incessant communication and to enable stakeholders have autonomy on the legal aspect of the company with just a few clicks. Hence, the birth of nextPLOS.

nextPLOS is that IT solution that can assist any corporate legal team to manage resources, be more efficient in operations and most especially provide a comprehensive platform to tackle daily legal & corporate activities.
